What do you think are the fastest things in the universe?
Light is the fastest thing. It travels at about 186,282 miles per second.

What ideas did you think of?